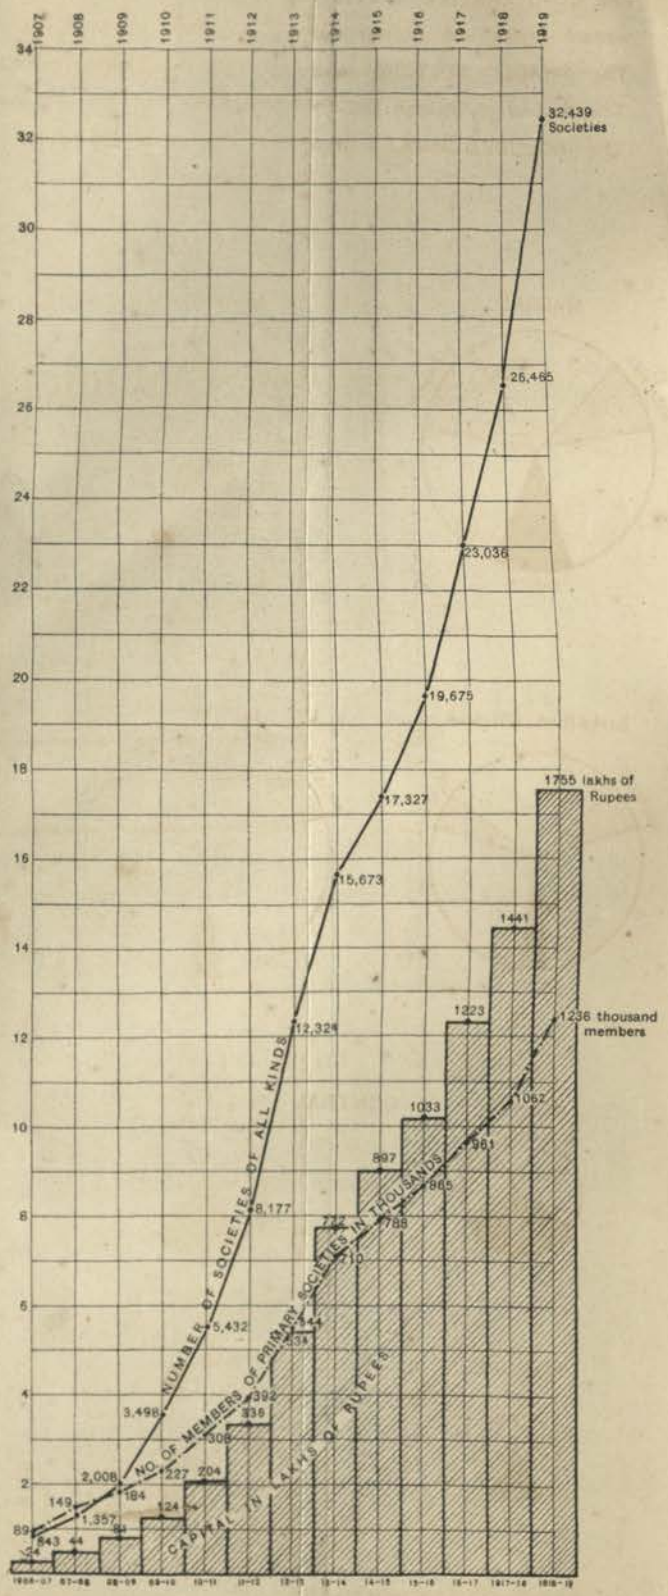
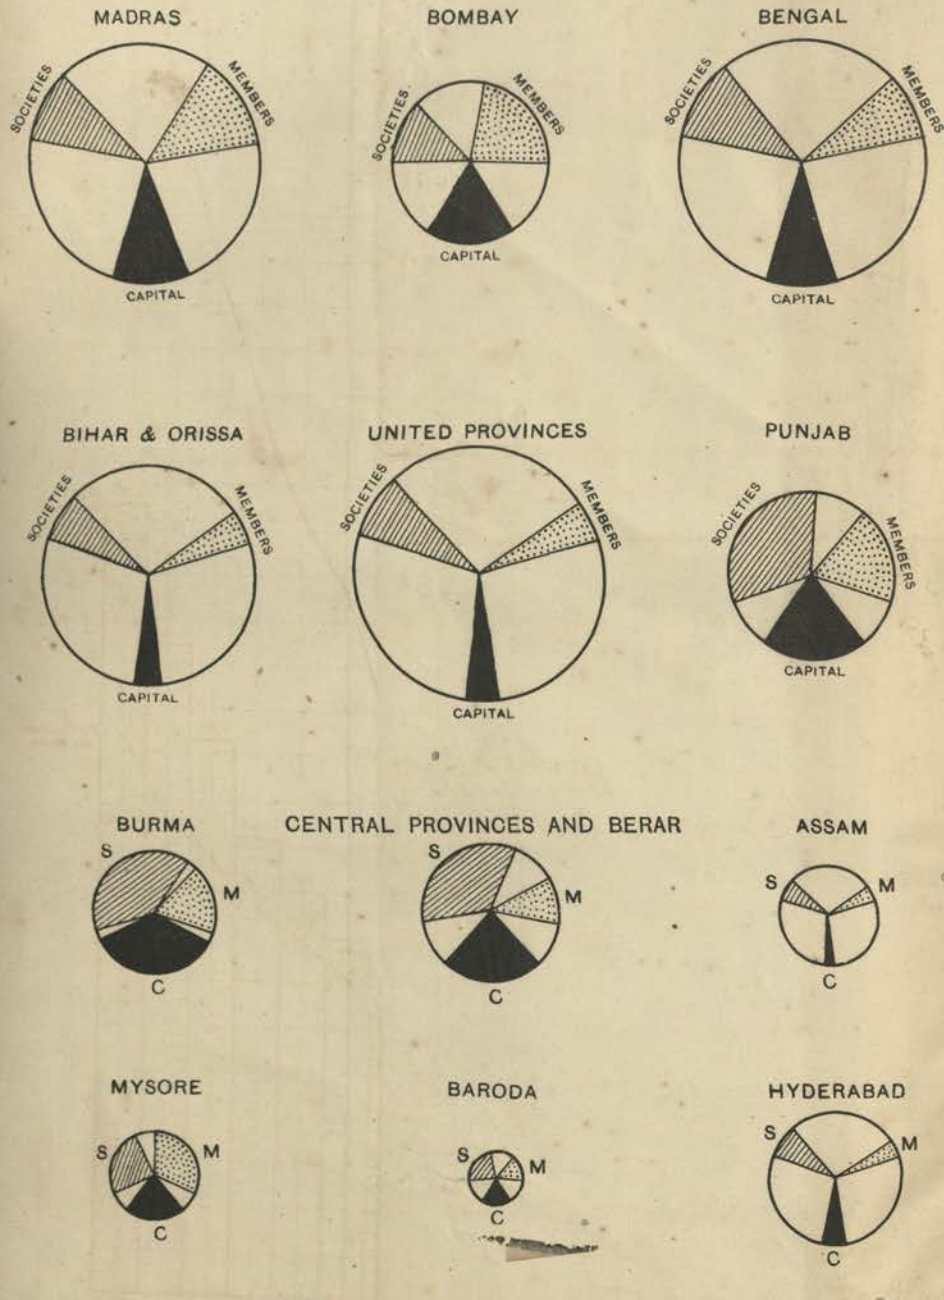
Progress of the Co-operative Movement in India. 1907–19.



NOTE – Capital is increasing slightly faster than membership, being now nearly Rs. 142 per member, and the proportion of societies has so increased that the average membership is now less than 39. The capital is Rs. 5411 per society.

Reg. No. 3805 E., 20.—II—750

The CO-OPERATIVE STATISTICS for 1918-19 are shown below in CIRCLES, whose areas are proportional to the POPULATION of each Province. The SHADED SECTORS represent the three principal statistics, as shown. The AREAS of related sectors are proportional to the statistics concerned. The INCLUDED ANGLES show the relation of statistics to Population.



For COORG ● and AJMER-MERWARA ● the statistics are too large to be shown.

EXPLANATORY NOTE.

1. The statements are arranged as shown in the table of "Contents" on the opposite page, and have been compiled with certain modifications on the lines recommended by the Committee on Co-operation.

In 1919 the Government of India in the Department of Revenue and Agriculture decided to transfer the work of compiling these statements to the Department of Statistics, and this is the first of the series of the publication issued by this Department.

2. The Abstract Tables indicate some of the leading features of progress in the co-operative movement during the year 1918-19, and show the numbers of societies and members, and the working capital both for the whole of India and by Provinces. These abstracts are illustrated by diagrams in the Frontispiece and also in the Population Map at the end of the tables.

In Abstract Tables II and III, when comparing the figures for the year 1918-19 with the figures for years prior to 1915-16, the following points should be borne in mind:—

(i) that in the case of Guaranteeing Unions and Re-insurance Societies the number of members represents the number of affiliated societies and not the number of individual members included in such societies;

(ii) that the total number of members in Abstract Table II is not the sum total of the preceding four items but that of agricultural and non-agricultural societies only, the assumption being that all individual members of Central and Provincial Banks, Banking Unions, and Guaranteeing Unions have already figured once as members of an agricultural or non-agricultural primary society;

(iii) that the figures for working capital given in Abstract Table III do not include the working capital of Unions, Cattle Insurance, and Re-insurance Societies as these are not furnished in Statements D, E, and F, respectively;

(iv) that with effect from the year 1915-16 the loans and deposits of society-members have been transferred in Abstract Table III from the head "Loans and deposits held at the end of the year from members" to the head "Loans and deposits held at the end of the year from societies," and that the latter head no longer includes loans and deposits from Provincial or Central Banks for which a separate head has been provided; and

(v) that with effect from the same year (1915-16) the figure given against the head "Loans and deposits held at the end of the year from non-members and other sources," includes all loans and deposits held by Central and Provincial Banks from individuals, Joint Stock Banks, and other sources not included against the preceding headings.

3. The General Statements give a detailed record of the main statistics relating to co-operative societies in the several provinces in India during the year 1918-19. The figures are taken from the advance tabular statements forwarded by the Registrars of Co-operative Societies for that year and relate to societies of a co-operative nature in all the British Provinces except Delhi, the North-West Frontier Province, and Baluchistan, where the movement has as yet made little progress. Figures for the Indian States of Mysore, Baroda, and Hyderabad have been included.

Statement A exhibits the operations of Central Banks and shows figures separately for Provincial Banks and for Central Banks including District Banks, Banking Unions, and all other societies constituted with the object of lending to individual societies and tapping deposits from a larger area than that of the primary agricultural or non-agricultural society. The figures for Unions other than Banking Unions have been excluded from this statement and are shown in a separate Statement D. The total number of Banks during the year 1918-19 rose from 282 to 333, with a membership and working capital of 107,747 and over Rs. 7,29 lakhs, as against 91,494 and Rs. 5,81 lakhs, respectively, in 1917-18. The net profit resulting from the operations of these Banks also increased from Rs. 11,53,758 to Rs. 13,70,781 in 1918-19.

Statements B and C show the operations of the agricultural and non-agricultural primary societies in the same form. It will be observed that the number of such societies increased during the year from 23,741 agricultural (excluding insurance societies) and 1,451 non-agricultural to 28,977 agricultural (excluding insurance societies) and 1,971 non-agricultural societies respectively. The total membership and working capital at the close of the year were as follows:—

	1918-19. Members.	Capital.
	No.	Rs. (lakhs)
Agricultural	967,318	8,09
Non-Agricultural	261,675	2,17
Total	1,228,993	10,26

The following are the profits resulting from the operations of these societies:—

	Rs.
Agricultural Societies	29,94,993
Non-agricultural Societies	8,92,232
Total	38,87,225

Statement D shows the operations of Unions which either supervise only or both supervise and guarantee. Unions which do banking business are classed as Central Banks and are included in Statement A.

Statement E shows the operations of cattle insurance societies. These societies at present exist in Bombay, Bengal, the United Provinces, the Punjab, Burma, and Coorg only.

Statement F exhibits statistics pertaining to central re-insurance societies, that is to say, societies which, in return for a definite share of the insurance premia of the affiliated societies, undertake a definite share of their risks. The only society of this type at present exists in Burma.

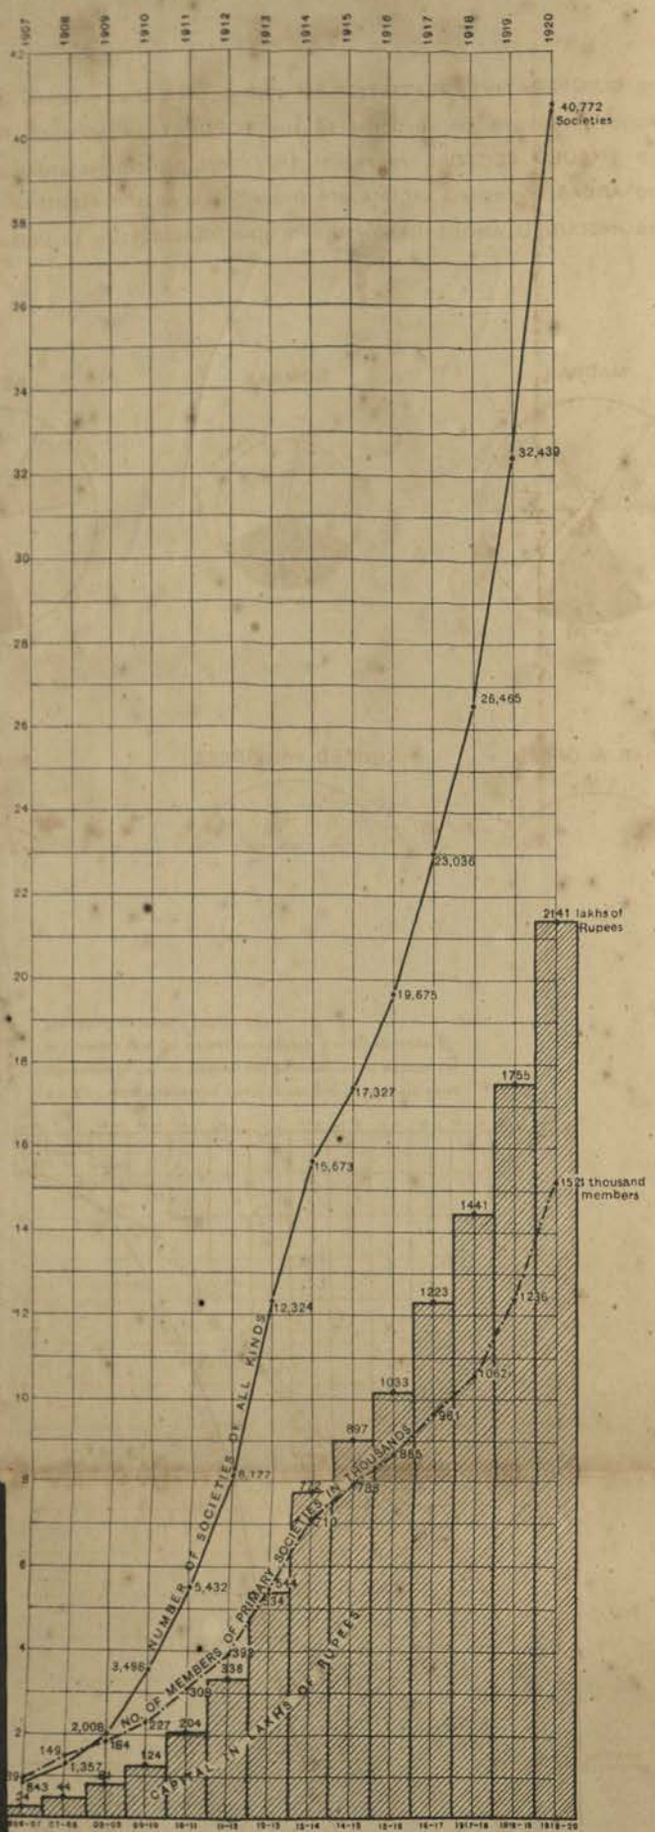
Progress of the Co-operative Movement in India. 1907–20.



NOTE.—Capital is increasing slightly slower than membership, being now nearly Rs. 141 per member, and the proportion of societies has so increased that the average membership is now slightly over 37. The capital is over Rs. 5,250 per society.

The CO-OPERATIVE STATISTICS for 1919-20 are shown below in CIRCLES, whose areas are proportional to the POPULATION of each Province. The SHADED SECTORS represent the three principal statistics, as shown. The AREAS of related sectors are proportional to the statistics concerned. The INCLUDED ANGLES show the relation of statistics to Population.

EXPLANATORY NOTE.

1. This is the second of the series of the publication styled "Statements showing progress of the Co-operative Movement in India" issued by this Department under instructions from the Government of India in the Department of Revenue and Agriculture. The statements are arranged as shown in the table of "Contents" on the opposite page, and have been compiled with certain modifications on the lines recommended by the Committee on Co-operation in India, 1915.

2. The Abstract Tables indicate some of the leading features of progress in the co-operative movement during the year 1919-20, and show the numbers of societies and members and the working capital, both for the whole of India and by Provinces. These abstracts are illustrated by diagrams in the frontispiece and also in the Population Map at the end of the tables.

In Abstract Tables II and III, when comparing the figures for the last five years, 1915-16 to 1919-20 with the figures for years prior to 1915-16, the following points should be borne in mind:—

(i) that in the case of Guaranteeing Unions and Re-insurance Societies the number of members represents the number of affiliated societies and not the number of individual members included in such societies;

(ii) that with effect from 1917-18 individual members of Central and Provincial Banks, Banking Unions, and Guaranteeing Unions are not included in the total number of members shown in Abstract Tables II(a) and II(b) as it is assumed that these have already figured once as members of an agricultural or non-agricultural primary society;

(iii) that the figures for working capital given in Abstract Table III do not include the working capital of Unions, Cattle Insurance, and Re-insurance Societies as these are not furnished in Statements D, E, and F, respectively;

(iv) that with effect from the year 1915-16 the loans and deposits of society-members have been transferred in Abstract Table III from the head "Loans and deposits held at the end of the year from members" to the head "Loans and deposits held at the end of the year from societies," and that the latter head no longer includes loans and deposits from Provincial or Central Banks for which a separate head has been provided; and

(v) that with effect from the same year (1915-16) the figure given against the head "Loans and deposits held at the end of the year from non-members and other sources," includes all loans and deposits held by Central and Provincial Banks from individuals, Joint Stock Banks, and other sources not included against the preceding headings.

3. The General Statements give a detailed record of the main statistics relating to co-operative societies in the several provinces in India during the year 1919-20. The figures are taken from the advance tabular statements forwarded by the Registrars of Co-operative Societies for that year and relate to societies of a co-operative nature in all the British Provinces except the North-West Frontier Province and Baluchistan, where the movement has as yet made little progress. Figures for the Indian States of Mysore, Baroda, Hyderabad, and Bhopal have been included.

Statement A exhibits the operations of Central Banks and shows figures separately for Provincial Banks and for Central Banks including District Banks, Banking Unions, and all other societies constituted with the object of lending to individual societies and tapping deposits from a larger area than that of the primary agricultural or non-agricultural society. The figures for Unions other than Banking Unions have been excluded from this statement and are shown in a separate Statement D. The total number of Banks during the year 1919-20 rose from 333 to 400, with a membership and working capital of 127,026 and over Rs. 8,85 lakhs, as against 107,017 (revised figure) and Rs. 7,29 lakhs, respectively, in 1918-19. The net profit resulting from the operations of these Banks also increased from Rs. 13,70,781 to Rs. 17,50,678 in 1919-20.

Statements B and C show the operations of the Agricultural and non-agricultural primary societies in the same form. It will be observed that the number of such societies increased during the year from 28,977 agricultural (excluding insurance societies) and 1,971 non-agricultural to 36,299 agricultural (excluding insurance societies) and 2,662 non-agricultural societies respectively. The total membership and working capital at the close of the year were as follows:—

	1919-20. Members.	Capital.
	No.	Rs. (lakhs)
Agricultural	1,175,109	9,65
Non-Agricultural	339,430	2,90
Total	1,514,539	12,55

The following are the profits resulting from the operations of these societies:—

	Rs.
Agricultural Societies	30,78,118
Non-agricultural Societies	11,63,877
Total	42,41,995

Statement D shows the operations of Unions other than Banking Unions which either supervise only or both supervise and guarantee. Unions which do banking business are classed as Central Banks and are included in Statement A.

Statement E shows the operations of Cattle Insurance Societies. These societies exist in Bombay, the Punjab, Burma, and Coorg only.

Statement F exhibits statistics pertaining to Central Re-insurance Societies, that is to say, societies which, in return for a definite share of the insurance premia of the affiliated societies, undertake a definite share of their risks. Societies of this type at present exist only in Burma and the Punjab.

EXPLANATORY NOTE.

1. This is the third of the series of the publication styled "Statements showing progress of the Co-operative Movement in India" issued by this Department under instructions from the Government of India in the Department of Revenue and Agriculture. The statements are arranged as shown in the table of "Contents," and have been compiled with certain modifications on the lines recommended by the Committee on Co-operation in India, 115.

2. The Abstract Tables indicate some of the leading features of progress in the co-operative movement during the year 1920-21, and show the numbers of societies and members and the working capital, both for the whole of India and by Provinces. These abstracts are illustrated by diagrams in the frontispiece.

In Abstract Tables II and III, when comparing the figures for the years 1915-16 to 1920-21 with the figures for years prior to 1915-16, the following points should be borne in mind:—

(i) that in the case of Guaranteeing Unions and Re-insurance Societies the number of members represents the number of affiliated societies and not the number of individual members included in such societies;

(ii) that with effect from 1917-18 individual members of Central and Provincial Banks, Banking Unions, and Guaranteeing Unions are not included in the total number of members shown in Abstract Tables II(a) and II(b) as it is assumed that these have already figured once as members of an agricultural or non-agricultural primary society;

(iii) that the figures for working capital given in Abstract Table III do not include the working capital of Unions, Cattle Insurance, and Re-insurance Societies as these are not furnished in Statements D, E, and F, respectively;

(iv) that with effect from the year 1915-16 the loans and deposits of society-members have been transferred in Abstract Table III from the head "Loans and deposits held at the end of the year from members" to the head "Loans and deposits held at the end of the year from societies," and that the latter head no longer includes loans and deposits from Provincial or Central Banks for which a separate head has been provided; and

(v) that with effect from the same year (1915-16) the figure given against the head "Loans and deposits held at the end of the year from non-members and other sources," includes all loans and deposits held by Central and Provincial Banks from individuals, Joint Stock Banks, and other sources not included against the preceding headings.

3. The General Statements give a detailed record of the main statistics relating to co-operative societies in the several provinces in India during the year 1920-21. The figures are taken from the advance tabular statements forwarded by the Registrars of Co-operative Societies for that year and relate to societies of a co-operative nature in all the British Provinces except the North-West Frontier Province and Baluchistan, where the movement has as yet made little progress. Figures for the Indian States of Mysore, Baroda, Hyderabad, and Bhopal have been included.

Statement A exhibits the operations of Central Banks and shows figures separately for Provincial Banks and for Central Banks including District Banks, Banking Unions, and all other societies constituted with the object of lending to individual societies and tapping deposits from a larger area than that of the primary agricultural or non-agricultural society. The figures for Unions other than Banking Unions have been excluded from this statement and are shown in a separate Statement D. The total number of Banks during the year 1920-21 rose from 400 to 449, with a membership and working capital of 143,488 and over Rs. 11,07 lakhs, as against 127,145 and over Rs. 8,85 lakhs, respectively, in 1919-20. The net profit resulting from the operations of these Banks also increased from Rs. 17,50,728 to Rs. 20,73,608 in 1920-21.

Statements B and C show the operations of the agricultural and non-agricultural primary societies in the same form. It will be observed that the number of such societies increased during the year from 36,299 agricultural (excluding insurance societies) and 2,662 non-agricultural in 1919-20 to 42,149 agricultural (excluding insurance societies) and 3,322 non-agricultural societies, respectively. The total membership and working capital at the close of the year were as follows:—

	1920-21. Members.	Capital.
	No.	Rs. (lakhs)
Agricultural	1,355,434	11,72
Non-Agricultural	390,513	3,63
Total	1,745,947	15,35

The following are the profits resulting from the operations of these societies:—

	Rs.
Agricultural Societies	32,25,944
Non-agricultural Societies	13,06,607
Total	45,32,551

Statement D shows the operations of Unions other than Banking Unions which either supervise only or both supervise and guarantee. Unions which do banking business are classed as Central Banks and are included in Statement A.

Statement E shows the operations of Cattle Insurance Societies. These societies exist only in Bombay, the Punjab, Burma, and Coorg.

Statement F exhibits statistics pertaining to Central Re-insurance Societies, that is to say, societies which, in return for a definite share of the insurance premia of the affiliated societies, undertake a definite share of their risks. Societies of this type at present exist only in Burma and the Punjab.

EXPLANATORY NOTE.

This is the fourth of the series of the publication styled "Statements showing progress of the Co-operative Movement in India" issued by this Department under instructions from the Government of India in the Department of Revenue and Agriculture. The statements are arranged as shown in the table of "Contents" on the opposite page, and have been compiled with certain modifications on the lines recommended by the Committee on Co-operation in India, 1915.

2. The Abstract Tables indicate some of the leading features of progress in the co-operative movement during the year 1921-22, and show the numbers of societies and members and the working capital, both for the whole of India and by Provinces. These abstracts are illustrated by diagrams in the frontispiece.

In Abstract Tables II and III, when comparing the figures for the years 1915-16 to 1921-22 with the figures for years prior to 1915-16, the following points should be borne in mind:—

(i) that in the case of Guaranteeing Unions and Re-insurance Societies the number of members represents the number of affiliated societies and not the number of individual members included in such societies;

(ii) that with effect from 1917-18 individual members of Central and Provincial Banks, Banking Unions, and Guaranteeing Unions are not included in the total number of members shown in Abstract Tables II(a) and II(b) as it is assumed that these have already figured once as members of an agricultural or non-agricultural primary society;

(iii) that the figures for working capital given in Abstract Table III do not include the working capital of Unions, Cattle Insurance, and Re-insurance Societies as these are not furnished in Statements D, E, and F, respectively;

(iv) that with effect from the year 1915-16 the loans and deposits of society-members have been transferred in Abstract Table III from the head "Loans and deposits held at the end of the year from members" to the head "Loans and deposits held at the end of the year from societies," and that the latter head no longer includes loans and deposits from Provincial or Central Banks for which a separate head has been provided; and

(v) that with effect from the same year (1915-16) the figure given against the head "Loans and deposits held at the end of the year from non-members and other sources," includes all loans and deposits held by Central and Provincial Banks from individuals, Joint Stock Banks, and other sources not included against the preceding headings.

3. The General Statements give a detailed record of the main statistics relating to co-operative societies in the several provinces in India during the year 1921-22. The figures are taken from the advance tabular statements forwarded by the Registrars of Co-operative Societies for that year and relate to societies of a co-operative nature in all the British Provinces except the North-West Frontier Province and Baluchistan, where the movement has as yet made little progress. Figures for the Indian States of Mysore, Baroda, Hyderabad, and Bhopal have been included.

Statement A exhibits the operations of Central Banks and shows figures separately for Provincial Banks and for Central Banks including District Banks, Banking Unions, and all other societies constituted with the object of lending to individual societies and tapping deposits from a larger area than that of the primary agricultural or non-agricultural society. The figures for Unions other than Banking Unions have been excluded from this statement and are shown in a separate Statement D. The total number of Banks during the year 1921-22 rose from 449 to 480, with a membership and working capital of 154,978 and about Rs. 13,25 lakhs, as against 143,488 and over Rs. 11,07 lakhs, respectively, in 1920-21. The net profit resulting from the operations of these Banks also increased from Rs. 20,73,611 to Rs. 27,92,929 in 1921-22.

Statements B and C show the operations of the agricultural and non-agricultural primary societies in the same form. It will be observed that the number of such societies increased during the year from 42,149 agricultural (excluding insurance societies) and 3,322 non-agricultural to 46,344 agricultural (excluding insurance societies) and 3,674 non-agricultural societies, respectively. The total membership and working capital at the close of the year were as follows:—

	1921-22. Members.	Capital.
	No.	Rs. (lakhs)
Agricultural	1,516,454	13,32
Non-Agricultural	450,676	4,55
Total	1,967,130	17,87

The following are the profits resulting from the operations of these societies:—

	Rs.
Agricultural Societies	44,69,339
Non-agricultural Societies	16,71,591
Total	61,40,930

Statement D shows the operations of Unions other than Banking Unions which either supervise only or both supervise and guarantee. Unions which do banking business are classed as Central Banks and are included in Statement A.

Statement E shows the operations of Cattle Insurance Societies. These societies exist only in Bombay, the Punjab, the United Provinces, Burma, and Coorg.

Statement F exhibits statistics pertaining to Central Re-insurance Societies, that is to say, societies which, in return for a definite share of the insurance premia of the affiliated societies, undertake a definite share of their risks. Societies of this type at present exist only in Burma and the Punjab.

EXPLANATORY NOTE.

This is the fifth of the series of the publication styled "Statements showing progress of the Co-operative Movement in India" issued by this Department under instructions from the Government of India in the Department of Education, Health and Lands. The statements have been compiled with certain modifications on the lines recommended by the Committee on Co-operation in India, 1915, and are arranged as shown in the table of Contents on the opposite page.

2. The Abstract Tables indicate some of the leading features of progress in the co-operative movement during the year 1922-23, and show the numbers of societies and members and the amount of working capital, both for the whole of India and by Provinces. The all-India abstracts are illustrated by a diagram in the frontispiece.

In Abstract Tables II and III, when comparing the figures for the years 1915-16 to 1922-23 with the figures for years prior to 1915-16, the following points should be borne in mind:—

(i) that in the case of Guaranteeing Unions and Re-insurance Societies the number of members represents the number of affiliated societies and not the number of individual members included in such societies;

(ii) that with effect from 1917-18 individual members of Central and Provincial Banks, Banking Unions, and Guaranteeing Unions are not included in the total number of members shown in Abstract Tables II(a) and II(b) as it is assumed that these have already figured once as members of an agricultural or non-agricultural primary society;

(iii) that the figures for working capital given in Abstract Table III do not include the working capital of Unions, Cattle Insurance, and Re-insurance Societies as these are not furnished in Statements D, E, and F, respectively;

(iv) that with effect from the year 1915-16 the loans and deposits of society-members have been transferred in Abstract Table III from the head "Loans and deposits held at the end of the year from members" to the head "Loans and deposits held at the end of the year from societies," and that the latter head no longer includes loans and deposits from Provincial or Central Banks for which a separate head has been provided; and

(v) that with effect from the same year (1915-16) the figure given against the head "Loans and deposits held at the end of the year from non-members and other sources," includes all loans and deposits held by Central and Provincial Banks from individuals, Joint Stock Banks, and other sources not included against the preceding headings.

3. The General Statements give a detailed record of the main statistics relating to co-operative societies in the several provinces in India during the year 1922-23. The figures are taken from the advance tabular statements forwarded by the Registrars of Co-operative Societies for that year and relate to societies registered under the Co-operative Societies Act in all the British Provinces except the North-West Frontier Province and Baluchistan, where the movement has as yet made little progress. Figures for the Indian States of Mysore, Baroda, Hyderabad, and Bhopal have been included.

Statement A exhibits the operations of Central Banks and shows figures separately for Provincial Banks and for Central Banks including District Banks, Banking Unions, and all other societies constituted with the object of lending to individual societies and tapping deposits from a larger area than that of the primary agricultural or non-agricultural society. The figures for Unions other than Banking Unions have been excluded from this statement and are shown in a separate Statement D. The total number of Banks during the year 1922-23 rose from 480 to 514, with a membership and working capital of 163,675 and Rs. 15,33 lakhs, as against 154,978 and Rs. 13,25 lakhs, respectively, in 1921-22. The net profit resulting from the operations of these Banks also increased from Rs. 27,92,929 to Rs. 29,29,732 in 1922-23.

Statements B and C show the operations of the agricultural and non-agricultural primary societies in the same form. It will be observed that the number of such societies increased during the year from 46,344 agricultural (excluding insurance societies) and 3,674 non-agricultural to 49,830 agricultural (excluding insurance societies) and 3,957 non-agricultural societies, respectively. The total membership and working capital at the close of the year were as follows:—

	1922-23. Members.	Capital.
	No.	Rs. (lakhs)
Agricultural	1,606,283	14,76
Non-Agricultural	489,078	5,45
Total	2,095,361	20,21

The following are the profits resulting from the operations of these societies:—

	Rs.
Agricultural Societies	45,04,940
Non-agricultural Societies	18,88,021
Total	63,92,961

Statement D shows the operations of Unions other than Banking Unions which either supervise only or both supervise and guarantee. Unions which do banking business are classed as Central Banks and are included in Statement A.

Statement E shows the operations of Cattle Insurance Societies. These societies exist only in Bombay, the Punjab, the United Provinces, Burma, and Coorg.

Statement F exhibits statistics pertaining to Central Re-insurance Societies, that is to say, societies which, in return for a definite share of the insurance premia of the affiliated societies, undertake a definite share of their risks. Societies of this type at present exist only in Burma and the Punjab.
